ALL IS PEACEFUL

Settlement Made Between the Officials and Employees, with No Friction on Either Side.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.) St. Louis, April 4.—With an exhibition of part of the rules for the working of the settlement of the Wabash railroad labor dispute, the officials of the road and the firemen and trainmen practically came to an understanding today.

Raise Is Granted
This agreement provides for an increase of fifteen per cent. for freight and twelve for passenger service and is part of the demands made by the union at the time of their original demands. All details will be easily settled.

Very Peaceful

There is no friction between the officials and the representatives of the road and the settlements all appear not only to please the men but to be granted cheerfully by the road itself.

FRENCH STEAMERS ARE NOW SAFE

They Arrive in Port After Being Delayed Many Days at Sea.

Paris, April 4.—The ministry of marine received today a dispatch from St. Pierre, Miquelon, announcing the safe arrival there of the overdue French steamers Burgundie and Notre Dame du Salut, which sailed from St. Malo, France, March 17, for St. Pierre, each having about 1200 passengers on board, chiefly crews for the French fishing fleet, the owners of fishing boats and the families of the owners.

EVERYONE WANTS BEET FACTORY

Edward Stark Says Much Interest Is Being Shown in Its Establishment.

"Don't ask for any statement about the best sugar factory," said Edward Stark, agent of the Wisconsin Sugar company, as he walked up the street toward the Park hotel last night. "Everywhere I go people ask me questions about that factory, the farmers are talking about it everywhere, and the minute my name is learned I am assailed with a host of queries about sugar beets, and the chances of a factory here in Janesville."

All of which goes to show that the beet sugar factory movement is gaining strength in the county, and that the farmers who must be relied upon to contract for the necessary four thousand acres are becoming interested. Stark spent the night in the city on his way from Clinton, where he has been working, to Milwaukee.

STEAMER STRIKES LARGE ICEBERG

Passengers on the Sardinian Have a Thrilling Experience at Sea.

Halifax, N. S., April 4.—The steamer Sardinian, which arrived here today, had a thrilling experience at midnight Wednesday. It was very dark, and the lookout was keeping a very close watch for icebergs. Suddenly a huge one loomed up a short distance ahead. The helm was put hard to port and the Sardinian struck the berg a glancing blow. She shivered from stem to stern, and passengers ran to the deck in terror. The steamer was unhurt, but had a close call. She landed 600 Scotch immigrants hero and left for Portland.

THREE MEN ROB BANK IN OKLAHOMA OF $8,000

One Citizen Is Killed in the Battle With the Thieves as They Were Leaving.

Lawton, Okla., April 4.—One of the boldest bank robberies in the new country was committed at Leger, a small town twenty-five miles west of here.

A big Indian payment was due and the funds were in the bank.

Three men went to the bank and forced the doors to the building. One stood at the outer door, another remained at the rear, the other went inside to open the safe. He drilled a hole in the vault, forced an entrance and blew open the safe.

The noise of the explosion attracted the attention of a number of people sleeping near by and a rush was made for the bank. When the first detachment of citizens reached the building the robbers were leaving. A fierce fight ensued in which rifles and revolvers were used. One citizen, W. F. Robert, was fatally injured, being shot through the side.

The bank officials state that currency to the amount of $8,000 was taken.

SERIOUS WAR NOW EXPECTED

English Cabinet Discusses

Gravity of the Situation in Balkan Territory.

GRAVE RESULTS

Worst Possible Aspect Is Put on the Existing Circumstances, From English View.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.)

London, April 4.—The extreme seriousness of the situation in the Balkans has become evidenced in London and a special session of the cabinet was held today to discuss the question. The meeting was a long one and important facts were brought up for discussion.

It is understood that the acts of both Russia and Austria are being closely watched and that some definite action might yet be taken to compel both these powers to either keep their hands entirely off the struggle or enforce peace.

International Complications.
It is also feared that international complications will take place and that England may be forced to send more than diplomats to secure a representation in the struggle that appears to have begun.

REVIVAL DRAWS NEAR COMPLETION

WONDERFUL WORK HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED THUS FAR.

REVIVALIST'S SUNDAY MEETING

Words of Warning to Those Who Need Them, Bring Forth Great Results.

Only a few more services remain in the Biederwolf-Stout series. These last will undoubtedly rank as the most forcible and convincing of all. In the brief hours of meeting that remain the greatest results thus far attained are expected to be unequalled.

Today there are no meetings. Tomorrow every man in the city is asked to hear that wonderful address of Rev. Biederwolf—"The Unardonable Sin." At the men's gathering last Sunday the Congregational church was comfortably filled. This week it will be packed until men are turned away, unless all precedent established in other cities where the two addresses have been given on succeeding Sabbaths is broken.

Remarkable Address
Those who heard Rev. Biederwolf last Sunday will not soon forget his clear cut, incisive method of talking. In his talk in the afternoon upon the "White Life," there was no possibility of misunderstanding his meaning. When he declared against a sin or vice there were no two ways about it; his stand for the right was definite and unequivocal.

Last Sunday there was a difference of understanding about the hour of beginning. In some places it was announced as two-thirty o'clock, and other half an hour later. The announcement this week is for the earlier hour.

Last Night's Sermon

"Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian."

The first word to which we refer is the first one in the text commonly called "almost." The expression is composed of two little Greek words, the literal translation of which is "in a little," and it is a little difficult to know just in what sense Agrippa meant them.

Many modern scholars find in it only a sneer of sarcasm as if he would say, "With a very little persuasion you would fail make me a Christian." For a great many reasons not in place here I do not think they are right, but were they the thought comes burning home to us, "How much ought it to take to persuade a man to be a Christian? Does he need another Holy Spirit and a double conscience to convict him of sin? Does he need for intelligence to see that unpardoned sin cannot go unpunished? Must God send another Son into this world to suffer for sin? Must there be a deeper Gethsemane agony and another Calvary scene before you will be persuaded to turn to God? Festus said Paul was mad, but really Festus was mad and Paul was sane, for as another has said "there is no madness so great, no insanity so terrible as to neglect the eternal interests of the soul for the few things this short life can give. My Father, in heaven, is it possible that in the face of all that has been said any man can say 'with a very little persuasion you would fail make me a Christian?'" In spite of all that man is not and all that God is; in spite of all that man can be and all that God can do for a man is it possible that any one will dare to live without Him? No, but by all the blessings of salvation; by all the miseries of the neglect; by the great sacrifice of the loving Son of God to redeem you I beg of you to turn to God.

But I want to say in closing that if Agrippa did answer Paul with a sneer it was a forced one and not because he was not convicted of sin, but becoming convicted he would stifle his convictions with a jest and so not betray the real state of his feelings and if he did he would not be the only one who had grieved the Holy Spirit away in a way like that. I could tell you of two young ladies at a service such as this who as the preacher spoke in burning words of God's love for sinners and of the awful consequences of sin were deeply convicted. At length one of them said, "I can stand it no longer, I must yield myself to God." The other thought likewise convicted thought of the pleasures of sin and determined not to give them up and said, "Oh, Clara, it would take more than that to make me a Christian;" and even as she said it the tears that had started were driven back and over her face settled a hard steel like expression—she was driving away the Holy Spirit. Clara was persuaded to leave but returned next night to give her heart to God but the other young lady's ridicule had turned to seriousness. It was not many years after that a fatal disease came and preyed upon her and near the end the minister came and in answer to his questions she said her sins seemed like mountains piled before her; she was told of death but she said she knew it. In vain he pointed her to God until at last she turned her face to the wall and cried, "Oh, stifled conviction, Oh, stifled conviction." The last words she uttered as she stood on the brink of the dark stream were, "I am afraid." Oh, man, when God is dealing with your soul, it's time for you to be in earnest. Agrippa's words seem like a wall from the bottomless pit; almost he seemed about to take the hand of the brave old ambassador for Christ but he drew back and I think tonight his one wall of regret in the world of the ungodly beyond is, "Oh, if I only had, Oh, if I only had." Friends, some of you are very near the kingdom tonight but to be nothing more than near the kingdom is to be lost.

HILLER BROUGHT BACK BY SHERIFF

Man Charged with Wife Desertion Is Now Awaiting a Trial.

Sheriff George M. Appley returned home Thursday night from Waupaca where he went to get Theodore Hiller, who is charged with wife abandonment. He found Hiller located on a farm about four miles from Waupaca and brought him to this city. Yesterday afternoon he was taken before Judge Fifield and on account of the absence of District Attorney Jackson from the city, the examination was adjourned until Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Judge Fifield fixed his bail bond at $500. Up to this morning he had not been able to secure the necessary bondsmen and is still in jail.

Hiller left a wife and two small children behind him when he left here and they had a hard time getting along.

ROOSEVELT HITS NAIL ON THE HEAD

Tells University Students to Develop Character Above All Things.

Roosevelt, the student, Roosevelt, the athlete, spoke to the students in particular at his Madison address. His advice was sound. His words well chosen, and there was not a man who heard him who did not agree with his sentiments.

He showed a real pleasure in the triumphs of the university in the athletic field that more than interested his listeners. It is needless to say that every wearer of the cardinal has a warm spot in his heart for the nation's president and an added pride in his Alma Mater.

The Praise

"I have followed the university of Wisconsin's really remarkable career in athletic fields. It does not confine itself to playing football in the west, it rows in the east. And any crew that is rowing against the crew of Wisconsin has no business in the game if it is not a first-class crew. We like that. We like to see the boy who has a healthy vigor in him, which not only means he has developed his muscle, but has developed his pluck, his grit, his courage, his resolution.

Need Pluck

"And to you who have ever seen, much less taken part in, the work of nine or an eight or an eleven you know, besides physical prowess, you have got to draw on a fund of resolution and pluck. It is a good and first-class thing to have our young men develop their bodies and develop the harder qualities as well. I believe in athletics thoroughly. Let me add one provision. I believe in them in their place. I do not want to see the nothing but an athlete. I would like to use a much stronger expression.

Just Praise

"It is a first-class thing for a young man of 20 to be a crack half-back, but if at 40 all you can say of him is that once he was a good half-back, then I am sorry for him. Good, hard play is an admirable thing as long as you collect it in play. If you mistake it for work, if you think it is the end, you had better not play at all.

Results

"The boy who is a good man on the crew, a good man on the team, if when he leaves college, treats that as partly an agreeable incident, partly a bit of preparation for the real life, it is a service to him. But if he thinks he has struck what ought to be his main profession it is a misfortune.

Character

"To repeat what I said a few days ago, I want to see the young men of America, whether in or out of the universities, fine of body; I want still more to see them fine of mind; but most of all we hope that they develop well that which counts for more than body, for more than mind—character."

PRESIDENT HAS WON ALL HEARTS

HIS TALK TO THE LEGISLATURE FULL OF ADVICE.

LAUDS WISCONSIN UNIVERSITY
Speaks of the Great Responsibility That Rests with a State Legislator.

Cæsar's noted dispatch to the Roman senate, "Veni, Vidi, Vici," would aptly express the results of President Roosevelt's visit to Madison yesterday. He came, he saw, he conquered. His strenuous two hours in which he delivered two speeches and held a reception mark the man for what he is—the sturdiest and most aggressive of all presidents.

Talk to Legislature

When he began his address to the legislature and their friends in the assembly chamber he greeted as large and as select an audience as there is in the state. It was the same sort of an audience as has assembled there to greet Senator Spooner on his election to office in January. Evidently President Roosevelt appreciated it and his words to the assembled educators, legislators and state officials is well worthy of going down in history. He said in part:

His Beginning

"Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Mayor, gentlemen of the legislative branch, and you, my fellow Americans: I am glad to have the chance of saying a few words to you this morning in this beautiful city, the capital of your state, the seat of your great university."

"Just one word of congratulation to upon the fact that it is a beautiful city, and that you have been able to join in one place the capital and the seat of the great state institution of learning. I think that more and more our people are realizing the fact that practical efficiency in the direction of shaping means to an end does not bar us out from paying proper heed to beauty, to surroundings.

I remember well one spring when I visited this city feeling it was a fortunate thing for any young fellow to have the thousand associations that must inevitably cling around the seat of his education in his mind entwined with a place as beautiful as this is, with the two lakes, and that sacred cloistered calm that always associates itself with university buildings. But beauty of life is not everything. It is not the main thing. It is a good thing if it comes in connection with other matters.

The University

"Now one word first, especially with reference to your university. I am glad to see any institution of learning brought as closely into touch with the governmental method of managing the state as must inevitably be the case here where there is much juxtaposition between the university and the state capital.

A Double Purpose

"Our universities, our colleges and our academies fill a double purpose throughout the country. In the first place there is a percentage of the members who are to be trained in pure scholarship; sometimes scholarship of a sort that has direct reference to certain pursuits in after life of immediate practical value; sometimes scholarship to be followed for the sake of the scholarship. And remember, eminently practical people though we are, we have from the beginning of our history, I am glad to say, recognized the worth of scholarship for its own sake. There is that side to education, the desire to turn out scholars, students, teachers, each of whom I hope will be turned out within him the purpose to add to the sum of productive work of the country. Some time I would like to see the student of the American university turned out, having deeply implanted in him the purpose to strive to do new work of value in the field of scholarship, not merely to go over those portions of the field that has been harrowed by ten thousand harrows before him, but to strike out and do original work of value.

Congratulates State

"I congratulate you of this university that already Wisconsin has contributed through the graduates of her university to such substantive work, to positive achievement in new fields. Therefore, our university must turn out scholars, but it must do more than that. It must turn out men and women."

In Tolstoi's masterpiece, "Resurrection" the author has shown in the character of Nekhludoff, a man as God has made him, and a man as the world warps him. The entire work may be called an epic of conscience of the human emotions.

The difference between what he had been then and what he was now was very great. It was almost as great, if not greater, than the difference between Katusha in church and the wanton who had revelled and drunk with the merchant, and whom they had judged this morning.

Then he was a free and fearless man with endless possibilities before him; now he felt entangled on all sides in the meshes of the foolish, empty, valueless and unworthy life, from which he saw no means of escape. He remembered how he used to feel proud of his straightforwardness, of his rule to speak always the truth, and he had really been truthful; and now he was sunk deeply in the mire of lies, in the most horrible of lies, in lies that are considered by everyone around as the truth.

And he could see that there was no way of escape from the mire of lies. He at least could not see any escape. He had sunk deeply into the mire, grown accustomed to it, and even felt gratified in it.

A very strong dramatic cast is promised, as well as an elaborate scenic equipment, for the production of "Resurrection" at Myers Grand tonight.

PRINTS THE NEWS FROM HADES

New York Paper Has a Novel Dispatch from the Lower Regions.

"Hades, April 1.—Serious labor difficulties have developed here within the last few days. The beginning of the trouble dates back from the arrival some weeks ago, of a few minor offenders, who were put to work with the stokers tending the fires.

"The new arrivals, who are believed to have been members of a labor union on earth, quietly organized the Hades Stokers' Union No. 1, which promptly made demand for a shorter work day.

"The wage question was not involved as no wages are paid there, but the unionists argued that, inasmuch as they would have to work for all eternity, they should be allowed at least a two platoon system."

"The above dispatch cannot be verified, and there may be some exaggeration in it, or some inaccuracies due to the method of transmission, but as it has decreed that all coffins must bear the union label, the announcement that unionism has crossed the Styx is not in itself surprising."—New York Press.

THE REAL HEROINE OF A NOVEL

The real New York girl after whom the heroine of "The Leopard's Spots" was illustrated does not care to publish her name, but this is her photograph. More than a hundred thousand copies of Thomas Dixon's novel has already been sold, and it has been widely discussed as a startling picture of the South by a Southerner. It was at Mr. Dixon's urgent request that this lady posed for the illustrator, for he thought she was more like the heroine than any woman he knew. Published by Doubleday, Page & Co., New York.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently; pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only. For sale by all reliable druggists.

We Paid $100,000

For the Rights to Liquozone for the United States.

This company is composed of business, professional and medical men of ability.

Does anyone suppose that we would pay $100,000 for a newly discovered product, without knowing to a certainty that it does kill germs, and cures every germ disease?

Before making the purchase we tested Liquozone for two years—in thousands of difficult cases. Then we staked our fortune and our reputation on it. We can offer no better evidence that Liquozone does what we claim.

The world's best physicians, and the world's best hospitals, are to-day employing it.

We Offer $1,000 to the physician or scientist who discovers a disease germ that Liquozone can't kill. And if such a germ is discovered we will publicly announce the fact.

We never wish to claim that Liquozone cures a disease if the germs of that disease can't be killed by it.

Liquozone is simply liquid oxygen; no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Pauli—the great German chemist—who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen, in simple form, into the blood, that no germ could live in any membrane or tissue.

Liquozone does that. We spend 14 days in making every bottle of it, and the result is certain germ-killer which can be taken into the blood to go wherever the blood goes.

Liquozone Kills All Germs.

Any drug that kills germs is a poison to you, and it cannot be taken internally. All that medicine can do for a germ disease is to aid Nature to battle with the germs.

Liquozone goes directly to the cause of these diseases, and destroys it. The results are absolutely certain, for Liquozone never fails to kill germs.

And it kills them with oxygen only—a tonic to you—necessity—the very source of vitality. It kills them because germs are vegetables; and an excess of oxygen, while life to an animal, is deadly to vegetable matter.

Liquozone is the only way known to kill germs in the body without destroying the tissues, too.

Diseases Due to Germs.

These are some of the known germ diseases. Liquozone has cured each of these diseases at least several hundred times—some of them thousands of times. We know from vast experience that Liquozone cures every disease in this list, and cures it completely and forever. We will send you evidence enough if you will write us.

Asthma Anemia Bronchitis Blood Poison Biliousness Bright's Disease Coughs—Colds Consumption Children Infants Colic—Croup Cataract Cancer Dysentery Diarrhea Dandruff Disease Diaphonia Eczema Fervor Favors Gonorrhœa Gall Stones Gout Influenza Impure Blood Kidney Troubles Liver Troubles Malaria Neuralgia Pneumonia Rheumatism Skin Diseases Sore Throat Scrofula Sciatica Syphilis Stomach Troubles Salt Rheum Tuberculosis Tonsillitis Ulcers Varicose Vein Diseases Weak Eyes

All diseases that begin with fever—all inflammation—all cataract in any part of the body—all contagious diseases—all the results of impure or poisoned blood.

The First Bottle Free.

If you have a germ trouble, and you doubt that Liquozone cures it, fill out this coupon. We will then send you an order on your druggist for a full-size bottle free.

We would much rather pay for the first bottle ourselves than have anyone who needs Liquozone go without it. And every person needs it sometime. This is not a medicine. It is nothing but oxygen—just the vital element of air.

Liquozone is sold by all druggists in two sizes—50c. and $1.00 per bottle.

PLATFORM

The following resolution adopted at the convention when the citizens ticket was indorsed is the platform of the campaign.

Resolved, that it is the sense of this convention, that the mayor and common council and the board of education of this city, should in every particular, be governed by the provisions of the charter under which the city is organized; and we demand that in all matters the requirements of the charter be strictly observed.

Resolved, that strict economy in the administration of our city affairs is especially desired, and we demand of all city officials that business principles be observed, and a better system of bookkeeping and accounting adopted.

ENTHUSIASM

Some one has very truthfully said, "It is the enthusiasts who makes the world move; and they do make it move; even in spite of the dead weight which they must carry or indifference on the part of the majority."

The world is indebted to enthusiastic people, more than any other class, for the progress made. The bright boy or girl in school is always full of enthusiasm. Lessons are conquered and difficulties overcome because of this spirit that enters into the work.

People who make the greatest success in life are people who are inspired with this same spirit. In their zeal to accomplish they may occasionally make some errors of judgment, but errors are not always weakness, in fact, this class of errors frequently prove elements of strength. Back of well directed enthusiasm is always a purpose, and error often points the way to success.

Enthusiasm develops another quality that is all important, and that is absorption. The successful worker in any department of toil becomes so absorbed in his work that it becomes a part of his being.

The teacher who is not a machine, possesses a love for her work and a love for child life that inspires love in return. Her work becomes an all absorbing work, and the choicest compliment ever paid is that she is a born teacher.

This same principle holds good in every profession. The physician, who lacks it, will never be more than an ordinary doctor, and the preacher destitute of enthusiasm, usually talks to empty pews and vacant space.

The man who watched the lightning as it zig-zagged across the murky sky and grasped in imagination, a few of the possibilities contained in nature's wonderful agency of silent power, became an enthusiast, when he centered thought and energy in an effort to harness the great agency and before the task was completed it absorbed his being completely. But the product of his genius and untiring work has blessed humanity for generations and the lustre of his name is still unburnished.

The boy who mused by the fireside and watched the vapor as it escaped from the spout of an old kettle while he listened to the music of the steam, became an enthusiast when thought took hold of the undiscovered forces, and the world has made rapid strides because his mind absorbed in the work, developed the initial power of steam.

Enthusiasm scales the mountain peak and spans the desert plain, opening up highways across the continent, and spreading enlightenment to the remotest corners. It is the great forerunner of civilization, and the power that conquers difficulties that seem insurmountable.

The great mogul engines that climb the Rockies, winding in and out, through the mountain passes, but climbing with steady pace toward the summit are oil burners. They maintain a steady pressure of steam at 100 pounds, and the fireman with one hand on the steam valve, while the other regulates the supply of oil is ever conscious of the fact that the inanimate machine is full of life and energy, while his companion in the cab opens wide the throttle, with no fear of exhausting resources, or calling on the faithful servant for more than she can perform.

It is no wonder, at the end of the long run, when the engineer climbs down from his place, that a bond of affection holds him for a moment in admiration, and that he turns away with a word of commendation.

The engine was full of life and enthusiasm. Built for strenuous service, and never lacking in performance.

The little switch engine that darts out from the yard to make up the train for the return trip, is full of noise and bluster, but she would be helpless out on the hills where the mogul wrought so faithfully.

These two machines represent two types of humanity: One of them ready for any emergency, full of enthusiasm, backed by a purpose, ever surmounting difficulties and ever climbing toward the summit. The other full of bluster, but weak in accomplishment. The latter class are by far the largest, and they are found in every department of toll.

What the world needs today is sanctified enthusiasm, not only in the realm of religious thought, but in every other realm. The age is so swift that an army of people are possessed of an ambition to get to the front at a single stride, and all sorts of schemes are promoted and encouraged with this object in view. No satisfied to work out a destiny, they depend on luck and good fortune to accomplish in a year, the work of a lifetime.

The "Get rich quick" concerns have garnered a rich harvest during the past few years, and the money is contributed largely by people who can ill afford to lose it. An inventory of the make-up of this class of investors discloses the fact that they are composed of people to a great extent who never had a purpose in life, or if they did, they lacked enthusiasm and determination to develop it.

When the Beaumont oil fields were discovered a spirit of enthusiasm took possession of the sleepy old town and every citizen became a wide awake agent. This was public enthusiasm inspired by rich discoveries with rare possibilities for personal gain.

Janesville is undergoing a similar experience just now in the way of reform. Public sentiment has become aroused and the better class of citizens have become enthusiastic in demanding a clean business administration. This kind of enthusiasm is both legitimate and commendable. The moral tone of a community needs this kind of arousement, and the citizens can well afford to unite their energies for the public good.

There should be nothing spasmodic about the effort. When the taxpayers and better class of citizens get control of their own business, they will find several unexplored avenues for work. Business reform will be the foundation for moral reform and when thoroughly established it will mean an end to official connivance with slot machines, cock fights and various other irregularities for which the city has become notorious.

Several churches in the city have united their enthusiasm, and for two weeks, special efforts have been made to arouse religious sentiment and awaken the people to a sense of religious obligation.

This work is also commendable, and entitled to more hearty support than it has received. The average non-churchman is a believer not only in churches, but in the principles of Christianity. He would not attempt to do business in a town where churches do not exist, but he is content with the belief, and perfectly willing that others should share the responsibility and bear the burdens. This is neither just nor manly.

The average man and woman in this and every other land believes in Immortality. There is implanted in the human breast a hope that some where in the great beyond the ties of earth will be united.

One mission of the church is to prepare the life that is for the life that is to come. It is a sacred mission and no life can afford to neglect or ignore it. The enthusiasm of the church is a righteous enthusiasm of which no man should be ashamed. The mens' meeting Sunday afternoon should command the attention of every thoughtful man in the city.

SELF CONGRATULATION

The Gazette has added to its subscription list since the first of January last, 400 new daily subscribers. A house to house canvass of the city has been made by a competent canvasser and a map laid out in blocks indicates that the Gazette is a daily visitor at three-fourths of the homes in the city. The semi-weekly reaches 3000 farmers in the county twice a week. This means that 25000 people in Janesville and Rock county represent the Gazette clientele.

The paper has a pay roll of $100 a week. Money is expended freely on its news service, and its department of printing is recognized as one of the best in the state.

The Gazette offers to the business men of Janesville, an unparalleled medium for reaching the people. A half page advertisement costing a few dollars is more effective than 10,000 circulars scattered broadcast and costing four times the money. The paper is better than all the gift enterprises and fake advertising combined.

It is entitled to patronage, or because a good paper is creditable to the city and not as a matter of charity, but because it is in position to render value received in liberal allowance.

There isn't a business in Janesville that cannot increase its volume from 15 to 25 per cent. in a year by judicious newspaper advertising backed by intelligent business methods. If you don't believe it, drop all fake methods for a year and try it, and results will surprise you.

Janesville is the natural market for the county. There is no reason why the bulk of the trade should not come here, and it will, as soon as the business men in every line wake up to the fact that they are entitled to it, and go after it.

The newspaper is like the limited train; it moves on schedule time every day. If you want to share in the benefits, get aboard and it may be possible for you to make money enough to indulge in a summer vacation.

IN PASTURES NEW

The Recorder is still roaming around in the field of reform. The experience is so new that all kinds of antics are indulged in. The Irish race comes in for a share of attention, and a spirit of defiance prompts the editor and would be mayor, to throw down the gauntlet against all comers. The people are not called upon to elect a clerk of the school board. That duty and the attendant responsibility belongs to the Board itself. If the members are in error in interpreting the law, the error is so ancient that it is moss backed, and hoary with age.

If the Recorder desires to discuss reform why don't the paper confine itself to the city hall. The people are interested in the make up of the city council. There is no occasion for dragging the school board into the discussion. The citizens ticket is running on a reform platform. The democratic ticket, or what there is left of it, is running wild. It lacks both brio and motive power, and has no excuse for being in the field. The party refused to adopt a platform but the candidate for mayor held a session all by himself and when the meeting adjourned, he was a full fledged reformer. There is something pathetic about this sort of a conversion, if he should happen to be defeated he will be the most lonesome man in town, and if by any chance he should be elected, he will be still more lonesome.

The remnant of democracy that stands behind this erstwhile candidate, is not noted for reform. If the would be mayor is sincere, he will derive a great deal of pleasure in pulling his constituency up to his level after he gets through running for office. It is the opportunity of a life time to redeem democracy and there should be glory enough in the prospect to satisfy a more lofty ambition than politics. Janesville democracy, as well as the citizens generally, has occasion to be thankful that a second Moses has sprung into the arena. Reform is in the atmosphere and there is no accounting for what may happen.

Mark a cross in the little square under the names of every candidate on the citizens ticket, and another in the large square over the ticket, and there will be no question about how your vote will be counted.

The man who stays away from the polls next Tuesday and depends on his neighbor to represent him, will not be represented.

The legislature has adjourned for ten days and will have time to cool off as well as to consult the home constituency.

You can drink your neighbors health, and smoke at his expense but he can't vote for you.

Reform is a pleasant topic to discuss, but it takes votes to elect reformers.

Attend the men's meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

Don't forget that next Tuesday election day.

PRESS COMMENT

London Punch: Some explorers in New Guinea have discovered a tribe of apelike men. The tribe's description of the explorers has not yet come to hand.

Milwaukee Sentinel: It seems fair to assume that Mr. Cleveland will cut Louisville and Lincoln, Neb., out of his western itinerary.

Chicago Record-Herald: One woman has refused a flattering offer to appear on the stage as the "heroine of the Burdick mystery." She has established a splendid precedent.

Atlanta Journal: A Russian is said to have lived 200 years and was a widower for 123 years. And yet some people want to reform that country.

Kansas City Journal: It is said that 25 per cent. of the governors of the various states are Methodists. In most respects, however, the Methodists stand as well as other denominations.

New York World: Professor Marchand of Paris says the brain has its maximum weight at 20 years. This tallies with the 20-year youth's estimate of his own intellect.

New York Mail and Express: When the president gets to the Yellowstone Park he proposes to do absolutely nothing for two weeks. Bets are ten to one that he never will endure such strenuous indolence. Possibly the announcement is only intended to put the bears off their guard.

Louisville (Ky.) Post: It is clear the democrats have no chance to defeat President Roosevelt, so they are trying to persuade the republicans not to nominate him.

New York Evening Sun: A merry jest if a grave one! Certain railroads have given orders that trains are to be brought to a full stop when the danger signal is displayed. In other words the red light is to be used as well as ornamental.

Buffalo Express: Andrew Carnegie has found a road to lonely eminence. He will pay the whole of the taxes for which he is assessed in New York without trying to reduce or evade them.

Washington Star: "It must be a very hard master to be a watchdog of the treasury."

"The position has its reliefs," answered the statesman. "When a man is recognized as a watchdog he may often keep other people so worried about their own appropriations that they are not disposed to make much trouble about his."

Chicago Chronicle: "I despised Grover Cleveland in 1892," says Senator Tillman, "and later I came near hating him as a public man more than any other man connected with the democratic party." For the "enemies that he makes" the gaze of Princeton continues to be fortun-

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

On and after April first, 1903, no contract will be made for business local. The rate for this class of advertising will be ten cents per line for each and every issue of either Daily or Weekly. The Gazette adopts this policy for two reasons.

First. To improve the news columns of the paper. The first consideration of any newspaper is the reader and its value to the advertiser depends entirely upon its popularity with the reading public. But local frequently flood the composing room the last hour before the paper goes to press and now is sacrificed to meet the demands of this class of business.

Second. The Daily Gazette is rapidly extending its circulation throughout the country, giving the Janesville merchant an opportunity to talk to the farmer as well as the city customer, six days in the week. This means faster machinery, and increased expense in producing a paper as well as increased expense for advertising space.

The Gazette has also adopted what is known as the square rate for display advertising, and prices have been placed within the reach of all advertisers.

The paper has long enjoyed a liberal patronage from home merchants, and it is in position today to furnish better service than at any time in its history.

THREE STREET CARS AN HOUR

TWENTY-MINUTE SCHEDULE, TO BE ADOPTED SOON.

CHANGES FOR CITY COMPANY

Plan to Center the System at Myers House, and Run Cars More Frequently.

In case the city council does not head off their intentions by adverse franchise action the Janesville Street Railway company will soon make radical alterations in its car system, including among other contemplated changes, the adoption of a new twenty-minute schedule, and the centering of the system at the Myers house corner, instead of the depots.

Twenty-Minute Schedule

Most important of the contemplated changes is the adoption of the Myers house corner as the center and meeting point of the branch lines. This will make it possible for a Forest Park or Milton avenue resident to go directly to Spring Brook, without first making a side trip up to the depot. At the same time the passenger who wishes to catch a train will be able to make as speedy connections as now.

In addition to this alteration, cars will be run at intervals of twenty instead of thirty minutes, an appreciable addition to the convenience of the system. Cars will leave the Milwaukee and Main street corner at twenty minutes before, twenty minutes after, and on the hour.

Golf Grounds Spur

No additions to the present tracklage have been determined. The track to the golf grounds is still under consideration, and certainly will not be settled until the action of the common council has been learned.

All of the cars of the company are to undergo a thorough overhauling. They will be repainted, repared, and possibly have new seats throughout. It is hoped to get the new schedule into effect by the first of May, with the equipment completely renovated. For some days a Chicago engineer has been expected in the city, to look over the line and make estimates on the cost of contemplated changes.

Railway Crossings

The company also plans to put in diamond crossings at the Academy street crossing and an engineer from a prominent steel rail concern is in the city to look over the ground and estimate the cost.

Increased Earnings

During the month of March the company has done more business than ever before. Their earnings are twenty per cent. in increase of any past March that the company has ever had.

PAINES CELERY COMPOUND

HAS KEPT HIM VIGOROUS,
STRONG AND HAPPY

We are now in a season of dangers and perils, and tens of thousands of ailing and half dead people should be brought to realize that they are standing upon dangerous ground. This is especially true of men and women of advanced years.

The spring season, with rapid changes from warmth to frost, from clear, dry weather to chilling rains and piercing winds, is the time when aged men and women suffer most; it is the time when weakness, nervousness, insomnia, rheumatism, neuralgia and digestive troubles are most common. At this time the fact cannot be too strongly impressed upon aged people and those who care for them that Paine's Celery Compound is what they need to renew their physical and mental powers. This great medicine enriches the poor and watery blood, braces the nerves, gives vitality, energy and restful sleep and healthy appetite. Let us all endeavor at this time to make the dear old people in our homes happy, vigorous and contented. We can do the blessed work by giving them Paine's Celery Compound. Hon. L. D. Mason, aged 92 years, writes as follows after a long experience with Paine's Celery Compound:

"When I reached 80 years of age I found my digestion growing feeble and my kidneys inactive. Although my store was well supplied with medicines, I had nothing that could meet my case. My grandson from Boston, brought me a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and it helped me. I made further experiments, and the result was, for the last seven years I have taken Paine's Celery Compound regularly, and now at the age of 92, I am smart and active. My son is selling Paine's Celery Compound in our store, and those who buy it praise it highly."

KILLS GERMS OF CATARRH

Hyomei Goes to the Root of the Disease and Makes Astonishing Cures.

Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of pills, liquid medicines and so-called system tonics. Under such treatment the germs of the disease will still live in the air passages and increase and multiply.

Hyomei is the only scientific and thorough way to cure catarrh, killing the germs in the air passages, it enters the blood with the oxygen, destroys the microbes in the blood and effectively drives from the system all traces of catarrhal poison. Thousands of testimonials have been given as to the astonishing cures made by this remedy. J. S. Nugent, treasurer of the American Union Life Insurance company, of New York City writes: Hyomei has completely cured my daughter of catarrh, from which she suffered for years.

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh is the fact that The Peoples Drug Co. agrees to refund the money to every customer who can say that Hyomei has not cured them.

Now is a good time to cure your catarrh.

MILTON JUNCTION

Milton Junction, April 3.—The people of the town of Milton are to vote next Tuesday on the question of license or no license of intoxicating liquor. Some are very sanguine that license will triumph. Quite a number of those who want license are not taxpayers.

Miss Lillian Corn and Miss Bertha Heine are assisting Mrs. Roberts in her millinery opening this week.

Stewart Chambers returned from a three weeks trip to New York last week.

Mrs. Parker of Chicago was in town to attend the wedding of her niece, Alice Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rood of Beloit were in town last week.

Sherman Ayers and George Coffell are at work for E. D. Coon on the farm during the college vacation. The Junior Endeavor of the S. D. E. church held a banquet at the home of Linda Baden Tuesday afternoon.

John Crandall and Fred Garthwaite are painting at Walworth.

George Keith and Edward McGowan were delegates to the Woodmen convention at Janesville a few days ago.

The local telephone line are extending their line over twenty miles west and east of the two towns.

Miss Jessie Teft, of Beloit is visiting her uncle Ed Teft of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Frink went to Albion last Wednesday to attend the wedding of their grandson Herbert Stone to Miss Nellie Shackleton of Albion. Rev. M. G. Stillman of Walworth was in town this week.

SOUTHWEST LIMA

Southwest Lima, April 3.—The condition of the roads are improving very fast.

Miss Nellie Dixon has been spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Epple.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Sax are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl at their home.

Mr. Henry Crantz sold four head of young cattle to Asher Allen Thursday.

David Harris is going to build a small house to live in, as they do not feel safe in moving into the one they vacated on account of the recent siege of diphtheria. We think it a good plan for the safety of the family.

OF UNTOLD VALUE

The Information Contained in This Gentleman's Statement is Priceless.

The hale, the hearty, the strong can afford to toss this paper to one side impatiently when they read the following but any sufferer in Janesville who has suffered hours of torture caused by kidney complaint will stand in his own light if he does not follow the valuable advice offered here:

Mr. W. Samp of 412 Euclid avenue, proprietor of the largest rock quarry business in Beloit says: "I had trouble with my kidneys for many years. It consisted mainly of a lame and aching back and there were occasions when I had such severe attacks that I could not get out of the house for two or three weeks at a time, I was then practically helpless for it was painful to move. At other times it assumed a milder form being a dull aching across my kidneys, used medicines of different kinds but I never found anything that gave the satisfaction Doan's Kidney Pills gave. This remedy is worthy of a high recommendation and it is a pleasure for me to endorse it as doing all that is claimed for it."

Just such emphatic endorsements can be had right here in Janesville. Drop into the People's Drug Co.'s store and ask what their customers report.

ELECTION NOTICE.

Office of County Clerk. Janesville, March 31, 1903.

Notice is hereby given that a judicial election is to be held in the several towns, wards and election precincts in the county of Rock on the 7th day of April, 1903, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates to be voted for whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column and the questions submitted to be voted for as stated below:

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters. A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting.

A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. The voter must make a cross (X) mark in the square under the name of each person he desires to vote for. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked, it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion as to such person's disability. The candidates for the different offices are, for example, as follows:

Iowa Farmer Vomits Two Reptiles of the Bull Variety.

Des Moines, Ia., April 4.—J. C. Blacklin, a farmer residing near Waterloo, has recovered suddenly by his own agency from an ailment that had baffled the skill of the best physicians for fifteen years.

In desperation he swallowed an emetic, enough to even endanger life. The result was that after going through terrible agony two large bull snakes were ejected from his stomach; one was three feet three inches long and seven-eighths of an inch in diameter.

The physicians believed Blacklin insane when he produced the snakes.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 4.—Instructions positively forbidding the use of cigarettes by those employed in the passenger service on the New York division of the Reading railroad have been issued by the company. Dismissal from the employ of the road is the penalty for failure to obey the mandate. "It is not safe to trust the lives of passengers in the hands of men who smoke cigarettes," is the only explanation given.

TO HEAVENLY REALMS

Mrs. Mary Galan
On Thursday, the 26th of March, Mrs. Mary G. Galan, nee Buskirk, of Ellendale, Dickey county, North Dakota, who has been confined to her bed for the past six weeks with cancer of the stomach, passed quietly away to her last resting place. Mrs. Galan was born in Pennsylvania, January 16th, 1844; was two years old when she came with her parents to Wisconsin. She is a lady who has passed through many trials and troubles and braved them all heroically. She left many kind friends who all miss her as a sister. She belonged to the W. R. C. and was always a willing and ready helper. She lived in Milwaukee, Wis., many years with her husband, Wm. Galan, who she married in 1867. While in Milwaukee he was foreman of a large slaughter house, and later he was killed on the railroad near Beloit, Wis. They buried their eldest daughter, Abbie, then eight years old in Milwaukee, Wis. When yet in her girlhood Mrs.

Galan was on very friendly terms with the late Francis E. Willard, the great temperance lady.

When first taken sick, she told her physician she did not fear death. He said he never saw or had a patient who faced death so bravely as she did. She made her peace with God and was ready and willing to go. When the summons came she lost her speech weeks before she died. Her remains will be interred in Ellendale cemetery beside her daughter, Ada, who was buried there several years ago of diphtheria. Although few of Mrs. Galan's relatives were able to attend the funeral. The dear sister will be none the less missed or mourned. Four brothers and two sisters are left. Mrs. William, Mrs. Weller, Mrs. Geschke and Mrs. Shaw, all met her Thanksgiving day at a family reunion held at the old homestead now occupied by the youngest brother, Fred Buskirk, of Afton, Wis. Many and costly the beautiful flowers which came from Minneapolis.

John Stendes

The funeral of the late John Stendes will be held from his home Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and from St. Paul's Lutheran church at 3 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Koerner officiating. The interment will be at the Oak Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Robert More

After an illness of five months' duration from a cancer of the hip Mrs. Robert More, wife of Supervisor Robert More, passed away Thursday at the Trinity hospital, Milwaukee. Deceased was highly esteemed in the community in which she resided and her death will come as a severe blow to a large number of relatives and friends. The funeral services will be held from her late home Sunday at 1:30 p. m., and the interment will be at the Emerald Grove cemetery.

Mrs. E. S. Raymond

Mrs. E. S. Raymond of the town of Porter passed away yesterday after an extended illness with a tumor. Mrs. Raymond was forty years of age and was very preeminently connected in the town in which she resided and had numerous friends who will mourn her death.

She leaves surviving her two daughters, Rose and Edna, and one son, Charles. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her home in the town of Porter and the interment will be at the Fulton cemetery.
